

Our Fallen Hero

SPC. Cassandra Lee Cassavant Cornish

Cassandra's military career started when she was attending Southern Maine Community College for accounting. She decided to go into the military so she could get money for college, and to help support herself and her 4 year old daughter.

She joined the military as a 25Q10 Satellite Communication Specialist. Cassandra scored so high on her tests that she had her pick of MOS. She picked communications because she loved space, and the idea of being able to link with other satellites.

She was later stationed at the HHC, 54th Signal Support Company Fort Hood, Texas. While there she proved to be a very important asset, she would be able to fix any problem that arose with the equipment. She became the go to girl of the company.
